Test of Wisconsin Oleomargarine Law.

Madison, Wis., July 31.—The first test case under the new Wisconsin oleomargarine law ended in a disagreement of the jury. The case was that of the state against Corry Bros., grocers, who were charged with selling oleomargarine colored to resemble butter. The product was sold in the original packages, which were properly labeled, and the main point was in regard to the use of coloring matter. The jury wrestled with the matter for sixteen hours, and then gave it up. Another trial will be had at once.

POLICE HOT ON HOLMES' TRAIL

Mysterious Convict in Jail at Little Rock, Ark., To Be Interviewed.

Chicago, Ill., July 31.—To-day an officer from the central station will start for Little Rock, Ark., commissioned by Chief Badenoch to interview the convict, Allen, who claims that he can relate secret chapters of H. H. Holmes' career of murder and fraudulent dealing.

Quinlan, who has not been disturbed in his solitude since Monday night, will be conducted to the "sweat box" at the central station and given another chance to explain some of the accusations that are made against him.

Perhaps the most important step the police have taken in the matter was to seize the letters and papers of B. F. Pictzel, which were stored with the furniture of Holmes' murdered accomplice at 6322 Madison avenue. These letters, nearly 300 all told, were put away a year ago, while Pictzel was in St. Louis arranging the details of insuring his own life to enable Holmes to carry out the project of defrauding the Fidelity Insurance company.

The letters examined prove beyond doubt that Pictzel and Holmes were partners in crime, and lead to the conclusion that Pictzel's death was planned by Holmes, not only to remove a man who stood between him and a fortune, but a man who on account of his dissipated habits was rapidly becoming a dangerous factor in his life.

Inspector Fitzpatrick has received a letter from the chief of police of Toronto, informing him that there is ample evidence in the hands of the crown prosecutor of Ontario's metropolis to convict Holmes of the murder of the Pictzel children. Toronto officers, assisted by Detective Geyer of Indianapolis, have obtained all the facts they need to prove conclusively that Holmes murdered the children. This bit of news was a surprise to the inspector, who had been under the impression that there were missing links in the chain of evidence that made conviction impossible, but he was, nevertheless, pleased to have Holmes pruned down to one case at least so securely that he cannot escape, even if the Philadelphia authorities turn him loose.

Digging in the cellar of the Holmes building yesterday was less fruitful than any day yet spent in investigating the underground schemes of the Philadelphia prisoner. Bones by the dozen were found, but as tangible evidence against the swindler they do not seem to count for much.

SETTLERS WANT GUNS.

Indian Scare Spreads to South Pass and Leadstone.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 31.—The Indian scare is spreading far to the south and east of Jackson's Hole and settlers in Fremont county are becoming alarmed. Gov. Richards last night received the following from Dr. W. Lovejoy of South Pass, in the Miners' Delight mining district: "There is a band of from 100 to 300 Indians within a half-day's ride of this place. They are all bucks and things look shady here. We have plenty of ammunition and men, but need guns. Can you send a few stands of arms?"

Shortly after the receipt of the above the following was received from Leadstone, in the same district: "Leadstone, July 30.—Gov. William Richards: Can you send us guns? Indians are near here."

"E. A. Gustin." The governor says the Indians no doubt are Utes from Duchesne, who are hanging around in the hope that there will be a big fight with the Bancks, which will give them an opportunity to make an attack upon the settlers and get back to their reservations before the troops could interfere with them. These settlements are about thirty miles south of Lander, and the governor says he does not believe they are in any danger unless there should be a fight in Hoback valley. He referred the dispatches to R. D. Woodruff of Rock Springs, inspector-general of the state militia, with instructions to use his discretion in the matter.

BLACK FIEND ADMITS THE MURDER.

Emmett Divers In Jail at St. Louis—Tells How He Killed Mrs. Cain.

St. Louis, Mo., July 31.—Emmett Divers, the colored man who was brought here several days ago from Hannibal, Mo., to escape lynching for the murder of Mrs. J. W. Cain near Fulton last Tuesday, has confessed. He said he slashed her throat eight times. Divers went into the details of his crime without any emotion other than to smile at times. He related the following story: "I left home about 9 o'clock in the morning to look for work. I reached the Cain house about an hour later. The door was open and I walked in. The woman was sitting by the bed cutting out quilt pieces. I asked her if there was anybody there but her. She said no. I asked her to give me the ring she had on her finger. She said she did not want me to have it. I then started to take it away from her and got it off her finger. I dropped to the floor. I then knocked her down with my fist. She started to get up. I saw a rope lying on a chair and tied her right hand to keep her from fighting me. I then put the rope around her neck and drew it as tight as I could. She kept trying to fight me and I cut her throat."

Divers realizes that he has but a short time to live and desires to see his wife and Sheriff Windsor of Fulton. He fears death at the hands of a mob if taken back to Fulton and requests that he be hanged in the St. Louis jail. No more finisish crime of the kind ever occurred in Missouri. The victim was a fine-looking young woman, only 18 years of age. She was married last May to J. W. Cain, a prosperous young farmer living five miles from Fulton, Mo.

News of the tragedy reached Fulton at noon. Sheriff Windsor and his deputies and a posse were soon on a trail that led to the capture of Divers in the afternoon at a farmhouse two miles from where the crime was committed. He was taken to Fulton immediately after his capture and was hurried out of there at night to avoid a mob and taken to Mexico, Mo. From there he was transferred to other towns in succession and was finally brought to St. Louis from Hannibal.

INSURGENTS LAND IN CUBA.

Revolutionary Party Receives an Accession of Men and War Material.

New York, July 31.—From advices received at Cuban headquarters Thomas Estrada Palma and Congrado de Quesada, brother of Gen. de Quesada, gave out the following statement: "The Cuban revolutionary party has received letters from Cuba announcing the safe landing of the commands of Maj.-Gen. Carlos Rotoff, Brig.-Gen. Jose Maria Rodriguez, chief of staff of Gen. Gomez, and Brig.-Gen. Serafino Sanchez. The expedition started from Two Keys in the Bahamas Islands, and was taken in sailboats to several sailing crafts, which conveyed the whole party. Ammunition and arms were in some crafts and the men in others, thus avoiding any danger from capture. "The expedition of Rotoff and Sanchez consisted of 278 men, almost all veterans of the last war. They carried about 500 Winchester and Remington rifles. One boat carried more than 500 pounds of dynamite, two small cannon and 50,000 rounds of ammunition. The second expedition, under Rodriguez, consisted of seventy-five picked men, all veterans and mostly officers. It carried about 150 repeating rifles and 20,000 rounds of ammunition. The two expeditions landed on the southern coast of the province of Santa Clara."

CONDITION OF CROPS.

General Outlook for Corn Excellent, Cotton Not So Good.

Chicago, July 31.—The weather crop bulletin issued by the department of agriculture for the week ending July 29 says: "Drought continues in Western Ohio, and is affecting crops unfavorably in portions of Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Georgia, Texas, Kansas, and Nebraska. In Southern Michigan the drought has been relieved, but in the northern part of the state the rainfall has been insufficient. The general outlook for corn is excellent, although unfavorable reports are received from portions of Nebraska and Kansas, and it is reported as late in North Dakota. In Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri it is making rapid growth and is earing. In Iowa the best crop ever grown in that state is promised. In the Southern states an unusually fine crop is now practically assured."

Chester W. Rowe Is Safe.

City of Mexico, July 31.—Foreign Relations Minister Mariscal has refused extradition in the case of Chester W. Rowe on the ground that Rowe is a naturalized citizen of Mexico he comes under the clause of the extradition treaty with the United States, which declares neither the United States nor Mexico is obliged to surrender its own citizens. Probably his brother can be extradited. Chester Rowe is the Iowa county treasurer who embezzled the funds in his charge and ran away to Mexico. He will be tried here, but this is looked on as a good deal of a farce.

Lawrence, Kan., July 31.—Ella Sullivan, the 18-year-old daughter of Steve Sullivan of Baldwin, was found unconscious in a field near the house last night. A CABINET CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON TODAY.

Amount of the Mora Claim Approved By the Spanish Ministry—Minister Bayard Says the Trinidad Deal Isn't Worth Bothering Anybody's Head Over.

Washington, July 31.—This morning there was a long conference between President Cleveland, Secretary Lamont and other members of the cabinet in relation to the indications of war between Japan and Russia.

Madrid, July 31.—The claim of the United States against Spain, known as the Mora claim, was before the cabinet today. Formal approval of the amount demanded was given.

London, July 31.—United States Ambassador Thomas F. Bayard, referring to the report of the seizure of the Island of Trinidad by Great Britain and the agitation in Brazil on that subject, said that the incident was a trifling one. The island, he added, was very small, only occupied by a few goats, and the British ships merely stopped there to lay a cable. Great Britain did not claim the island; in fact, it was not worth claiming. Like most South American governments, Brazil is easily excited over nothing. Mr. Bayard had not had any instructions from Washington regarding the Island of Trinidad.

AGAINST THE TAYLORS.

Testimony in the Missouri Murder Trial Rapidly Nearing the End.

Carrollton, Mo., July 31.—In the Taylor trial yesterday the first witness was William M. McClanahan, whose testimony was more favorable to the state than to the defense. He confirmed the evidence given by state witnesses as to the Taylors' harrowing over the wagon tracks made by the Taylors on their return from the alleged murderous expedition.

James S. Taylor, father of the prisoners, denied that there was blood on the wagon on the morning following the murder. On cross-examination he became excited and contradicted himself badly, and made some statements entirely at variance with his testimony at the first trial.

George Taylor, one of the defendants, was put on the stand. He testified he was at home on the night of the murder. His reason for flight was that his brother had been seen in the vicinity and he feared it was a plot to mob him. He detailed his flight and final surrender. William P. Taylor succeeded his brother on the stand and detailed his actions on the night of the murder and next day, but nothing of importance was elicited. The defense so far has strengthened its case, and will probably rest when William Taylor concludes.

LOOK FOR A GENERAL STRIKE.

Indiana Operators Declare They Will Not Pay the 60-Cent Rate.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 31.—The Indiana operators say that no operator will be paying 60 cents by to-night. Negaunee, Mich., July 31.—The striking miners yesterday sent a communication embodying their demands and grievances direct to the headquarters of the various mining corporations at Cleveland, and will attempt to ignore the local managements in treating with the owners. The agents of the mines say they have nothing more to offer, the men having declined to return to the mines to consider an advance.

Shot by a Former Lover.

Omaha, Neb., July 31.—Shortly after noon yesterday Augusta Matland, a starchy in the employ of the Model steam laundry, was shot three times by Peter Wahlgreen, a former lover. One of the wounds is supposed to be fatal. Wahlgreen was arrested while he was standing beside the body of his victim and is now in the city jail. The shooting occurred in the office of the Model steam laundry, corner of 12th and Dodge streets. Wahlgreen made no attempt to escape, but remarked that he had killed the woman, was glad of it, and was perfectly willing to be strung up to the nearest telegraph pole. The police were at once notified. Wahlgreen and Mrs. Matland came here some months ago from Minneapolis.

TO EFFECT DOLLAR WHEAT.

Scheme of the Triple Alliance as Set Forth in a Document.

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—Evidence of a secret conspiracy to corner the wheat market and artificially force prices beyond the legitimate values has come to light in South Dakota. A document has been found which purports to have been issued by the Triple Alliance, with headquarters in Minneapolis. It gives the details of the conspiracy and the methods of operation and the name of the general agent for the particular section to which the person addressed belongs. The letter says:

"The Triple Alliance of the farmers of the two Dakotas and Minnesota is now a fixed fact, but the utmost secrecy must be maintained. If a majority or even a respectable minority of the farmers of these three spring wheat states will pledge themselves and keep it to themselves to hold their wheat for $1 a bushel they will get $1 a bushel; but if the fact of an alliance leaks out and the wheat gamblers get hold of it, prices will be depressed. There are 340,000 farmers in the three states and over 90,000 of them have already taken the pledge and more are taking it as rapidly as 150 agents can administer oaths to them."

Heavy Rain in Kansas.

Fort Scott, Kan., July 31.—A heavy rain has again flooded the streams of southeast Kansas. A hundred families are rendered homeless by the treacherous waters of the Marmation river. Mill creek and Buck run. The Missouri Pacific railroad shops are surrounded and all traffic on this division has been abandoned. Two boys were drowned. The Marmation river, Mill creek and Buck run are but one stream, miles wide in places, and farms that have never been submerged are under water, which is still rising. More rain is threatening and many families are moving out.

May Fight in Mexico.

San Antonio, Tex., July 31.—A private telegram was received here from one of the officers of the Florida Athletic club, inquiring as to the feasibility of pulling off the Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle in Mexico, just across the border from Laredo or Eagle Pass, Tex. It is believed that the outspoken attitude of Gov. Culberson toward the proposed pugilistic carnival precludes all possibility of its taking place at any place in Texas.

Clew to Ida Gehhardt's Murderer.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—The police of West Indianapolis have secured a clew to the murder of little Ida Gehhardt, and Marshal Perry has gone to Danville, Ill., to make an arrest. It is claimed that the bloody pants found in an elevator two or three days ago were his.

Fire in Michigan Swamps.

Gladstone, Mich., July 31.—The swamps west and northwest of the city are burning furiously. The buildings on the Hammer property, owned by W. D. Washburn, Jr., of Minneapolis, were destroyed yesterday. Heavy fires are reported between Sault Ste. Marie and Trout Lake. Unless the wind changes soon it will be almost a miracle if fires do not start in the city, as everything is dry as tinder.

Old Chicago Resident Dead.

Chicago, July 31.—Judge John D. Catton, died yesterday at his residence, 1910 Calumet avenue. He was 84 years of age and, while he had no special malady, it is thought that his death was due to weakness and age. Judge Catton was one of the best known old settlers in the city. He was identified with many of the early efforts at developing Chicago.

Indian Scare Fast Dying Out.

Diggs, Idaho, by Courier to Market Lake, July 31.—The nearer one gets to Jackson's Hole the less fear of redskins is shown. This town—a postoffice and store only—is filled with people trading and there is no apprehension of Indians. There are still a few idle rumors, but no trouble is expected. The writer is two miles ahead of the troops.

REEDER TELLS OF MURDERS.

Sensational Story of a Cincinnati Man Will Be Investigated.

Cincinnati, O., July 31.—Yesterday Chief of Police Deitsch heard a startling story from Joe Reeder, a night watchman employed by S. S. Davis. This is the substance of his tale:

"The occurrence of which I want to speak takes me to a house in Rantoul, Ill. It is a little city of about 2,000 inhabitants, fourteen miles from Champaign, on the Chicago division of the Illinois Central railroad. I worked there in a hotel four or five times, a month or so at a time; the first time about five years ago, the last time something like two years ago. I was a porter about the establishment."

"The actions of the family aroused my suspicions from the beginning. I observed they were very attentive to traveling men. This was particularly the case when the traveler hailed from some very distant city. It was a strange thing, but several times men who were induced to stay over night did not leave again."

"In the cellar one day I found in a box under the stairway several skeletons, and once turned up a lot of bones in the yard. There were always strange goings on at night, and one evening a fellow registered there who carried a lot of diamonds. The proprietor's daughter took him into the parlor, and I saw them put a white powder into his glass. I knew it was arsenic, for they always kept arsenic handy in the kitchen, where they could readily get at it. At 2 o'clock I heard them dragging him down stairs. He groaned all night. I could not sleep myself, but I never saw him after that, although I was the first one up and never left the house all that day."

"Another time a man was put into my room. There were two beds there and the stranger had taken mine. We talked a short time, and he told me that he was a railroad engineer and that he had two months' salary in his pocket, nearly $300. Finally he went to sleep. I turned down the light. There was no key to the door, but I wanted it closed. So I took a chair and fastened it under the knob of the door. About midnight one of the girls attempted to get in, but could not open the door. Next day I left Rantoul. That was two years ago."

"I wrote to the Chicago authorities, but they never made any investigation, claiming that it was out of their jurisdiction, I believe. Then I dropped the matter until a short time ago, when I told a private detective in this city about it. He said that it wasn't in his line, but he would make a mental note of the circumstance related, so that if ever there should be a big reward for some man who had disappeared he might look into it."

Col. Deitsch was deeply impressed with the story, and will communicate with the proper authorities.

SLAIN IN A RACE WAR.

Negroes and Whites Fight Near Birmingham, Ala.

Birmingham, Ala., July 31.—Two killed and five or six wounded is the result of a race riot at Brookside mines, the property of the Sloss Iron and Steel company, ten miles from this city. Both white and colored miners are employed at Brookside, and there is constant friction. James Smith, a colored driver, was discharged a day or two ago, and ordered to keep off the company's property. Yesterday Smith disobeyed the injunction by coming about the mine and cursing every white man he saw. Sheriff A. P. Woods thereupon summoned Joel Baxter, a citizen, to his help, and the two went to arrest Smith for trespass. Smith was prepared for them and opened fire on them upon sight. Woods was shot in the heart and groin and died instantly. Baxter was mortally wounded and died later. The whites went to the rescue of Woods upon hearing the shots, and the blacks came to the aid of Smith. A pitched battle followed on the edge of a thicket. The negroes were worsted, and threaten further trouble. A carload of deputy sheriffs left for the scene at 11 o'clock last night. A bloody battle is expected, as the negroes have been inflamed by liquor and are said to be led by Smith, who is a daring man.

More than sixty contractors have signed the agreement. These are the leading contractors of the city and they employ from fifteen to fifty workmen each.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—In a lodging house on Market street last night were found E. H. Edwards, a Los Angeles photographer, his wife and two little girls, all poisoned by cyanide of potassium. MADE A SENSATION.

Senators Give Each Other the Lie at Springfield, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., July 31.—Bad blood was developed on the floor of the Senate yesterday and bad words followed. Colonel Henry H. Evans, the veteran senator from Aurora, called Charles A. Herb of Madison county a liar. The rumour was brought about by a discussion of Herb's bill to tax express companies 1 per cent of their gross receipts and place them under the control of the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. Senator Herb said the bill was almost identical with a bill passed by the house at the regular session, and which he said, "was smuggled into the committee on buildings and grounds, where the chairman pocketed it and nobody ever heard of it again."

"That's a lie—every word of it is a lie," roared Evans, springing to his feet. President pro tem Bogardus with some difficulty succeeded in restoring order and then directed Herb not to be personal in his remarks. A desultory discussion followed, and finally the bill was referred back to the committee on military affairs. Fitzpatrick's bill increasing tax levy $1,000,000 for next two years passed. On motion of Senator Mahony the senate arbitration bill, which came up on third reading, was tabled, and Hogan's House bill on the subject was substituted for it on the calendar. After some amendments the bill was then advanced to third reading and the senate adjourned.

Senator Morrison said he will offer in the senate today a resolution for sine die adjournment a week from next Friday. There is little doubt that the resolution will be adopted.

The house spent the day discussing the revenue bill. It is thought the measure will pass second reading today. The provision requiring an assessment of realty every four years was changed so as to read every two years. The maximum tax rate for county purposes was changed from 15 to 25 cents in place of 75 cents, the present maximum. During the debate Representative Berry said the governor would not sign the bill if the rate was left at 15 cents.

YOUTHFUL INCENDIARY.

Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Admits Starting Numerous Fires at Chelsea, Mich.

Chelsea, Mass., July 31.—Henry G. Clark, 15 years old, was in the municipal court this morning, charged with breaking and entering. His case was continued in order to permit State Fire Marshal Whitcomb to prefer more serious charges against him. By his own confession the boy is one of the most dangerous firebugs in Massachusetts. Last spring he started fires that caused a loss of more than $50,000.

Young Clark's principal fires include the burning of Strahan's wallpaper factory March 21, of an unoccupied house March 18, and of the Hotel Strathmore, the largest hotel on Crescent Beach, Revere, April 12. He also broke into the First Baptist church here and started a fire, but regretted his action in time to extinguish the flames. Clark has already served time for incendiarism.

AURANIA ARRIVES SAFELY.

Cunard Liner Delayed Thirty-Seven Hours by Fractured Steam Pipe.

New York, July 31.—The belated Cunard Line steamer Aurania has reached her pier with all on board safe and well. Captain McKay reports that on July 26, in latitude 44.18, longitude 55.37, during clear and calm weather, he was obliged to stop the ship, owing to a fracture in the main steam pipe. The break was near the flange and was about twenty-four inches long. The repairs were completed after a stoppage of thirty-seven hours. The Aurania then proceeded under reduced speed at the rate of thirteen knots without further accident. The Aurania brought 86 saloon, 62 second cabin and 457 steerage passengers.

No Definite Action Taken.

Springfield, Ill., July 31.—The republican state central committee held a meeting behind closed doors yesterday morning. In the afternoon there was an open conference attended by republicans from outside and by members of the general assembly. No definite action was taken. Least of all was there any decision and but little mention of what the general assembly ought or ought not to do.

Victory for the Pittsburg Miners.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 31.—Miners of the Pittsburg district get an advance from 60 to 64 cents. Payments are to be made in cash. There was a break among the Pittsburg operators at yesterday's conference and the miners won. This puts an end to the strike throughout the country.

HIS WIFE RAN AWAY WITH A CHICAGO MAN

ELOPING COUPLE CAUGHT IN JANESVILLE.

Her Home Was In Elgin and She Wanted to Spite her Husband, While He Was a Well Fed Windy City Man Who Was Not Adverse To a Mild Flirtation.

It was with the idea of punishing her husband that the handsome married daughter of a rich and influential Elgin resident came to Janesville with a wealthy Chicago business man; but it was a penitent and tearful wife that returned home some hours later, while the Chicago man consoled himself as best he could, and the detective who had been at work on the case saw his occupation gone. Owing to the recent rulings of a Wisconsin court in regard to libel, and the fact that the parties in this case have money enough to make libel suits their hobby during the rest of their lives, The Gazette will magnanimously allow them to remain anonymous. This is no "back down" and no "crawfish."

It is business. But—Mrs. X and Mr. Z did come to Janesville, and their advent caused more or less trouble for at least one Janesville policeman—possibly three—and for at least one detective and possibly half a dozen, largely depending upon how many the injured husband had hired in addition to the astute gentleman of that profession who made the Bower City a call.

Where the Trouble Started.

Some days ago the husband of Mrs. X went on what some people call a "boot." He drank some red liquor, possibly some straw colored brew and perhaps some of that mild looking beverage called "schnapps." In other words he "acquired his jag," as the detective might put it. Mrs. X saw him and was wroth. In vain he told "fairy stories" and odd tales of sudden illness. She refused to believe that his condition was the result of too free indulgence in early green corn, but insisted that only the product of ripe corn could produce such an effect. And she was right. Then, it was said, Mr. X asserted himself. He said that he would get a "jag" of any kind, nature, brand or description that he saw fit, and at any time or place, that he desired. He would drink "white-light," "red eye," "pop soda water," gasoline or such other beverage as, in his judgment, were appropriate to the occasion, whenever his throat waxed dry or his stomach was supplanted by an aching void—or words to that effect.

Then, the story continues, Mrs. X grew sad. She wept tears. She wailed. She bemoaned. But the husband was obstinate. He reaffirmed his intentions. He breathed defiance, and alcoholic breath. Mrs. X told him he was a mean, horrid, awful, spiteful, thoughtless, contemptible, miserable and heartless brute, or words of similar import. He admitted it. He was drunk.

Mrs. X Took the Warpath.

Then Mr. X said he was going to get another drink and the iron entered Mrs. X's soul.

"I'll pay him off," she said.

And she did.

With interest.

With that remark she examined her purse. It contained money. A railroad train ran to Janesville and at Janesville the trotting meeting of the year was in progress. An idea struck her. She would look upon the races while they were fast, and allow her husband to look upon the brewer's product while the foam was thick. At the depot she faltered, but not for long, and soon she had less money, but a pastebord that entitled her to one first class passage to Janesville. She took a seat near the window of the coach and made herself comfortable. She was fair to look upon, and men looked. Her wounded feelings made her desperate and she returned the glances cast in her direction. Soon she was flirting, just as girls do, regardless of the fact that she was married; that her matrimonial venture was a pleasant one, and that she had flown when about the first storm cloud blew over the horizon.

Mr. Z Put In An Appearance.

It was at the junction that the Chicago business man put in an appearance. He was sleek and well fed. His mustache was curled up at the ends and her his clothes were tailor made. He wore diamonds and had a sharp eye. He looked at Mrs. X and she looked at him. He hazarded a question as to her destination and she said she was going to Janesville to see the horses go round. So was he. He had a complimentary ticket. It authorized him to take a lady. If she wished he would share its advantages with her and she accepted. They arrived in Janesville in the afternoon and saw the flyers from a seat in the grand stand. Peanuts and pop were plentiful and pop corn was crisp and good. So they had a great time.

In the mean time the husband who had taken a mental Keeley cure and became sober. He regretted his rash words and went home. An empty house greeted him.

"Have you seen my wife?" he asked of the neighbors.

"She went toward the depot," he answered.

Then the police were appealed to and detectives hired. He got track of the wife and came to Janesville.

They hunted high and low but found nothing. Then Chief Aheson, was appealed to. He did what the detectives had not done. He found Mrs. X and Mr. Z.

Fixed the Trouble Up.

Then there was a scene. Tears flowed and tongues wagged. Mr. and Mrs. X confessed their weaknesses while Mr. Z looked troubled. Mr. and Mrs. X kissed and made up and the next train took them home, while Mr. Z took a drink and congratulated himself on his narrow escape. Injured husbands usually carry guns and occasionally they shoot. Mr. Z knows this and was glad that this was the exception that proved the rule. He had spent the afternoon at the races and he and Mrs. X had talked several hours with Officer Houghton while they waited for the hackman who did not come. Their future plans were made and they were going to have a great time. When the hackman came they were to leave dull care behind and take in the town. But they didn't. Just before the conveyance wheeled into sight, three men approached them from behind. One was tall and good looking. He was the husband. Another was shorter but quicker and more business-like. That was Chief Aheson. The third was of medium height and had black curly hair under his hat. He was the detective. The three newcomers halted and the other two turned around. The wife rushed while the officers looked grave. Mr. and Mrs. X stepped aside and talked a moment. Then they started up the street alone.

"The names?" you say.

Not much, but five letters are enough to spell either of them.

115 PEOPLE LIVE IN AFTON.

Census Returns Give the Village That Population—Rock Has 975.

AFTON, July 30.—The census enumeration for the town of Rock has been completed, and shows a total population of 975, 115 of which is credited to Afton village. The militia enrollment numbers two hundred, while fourteen ex-soldiers were found to reside in the town. Devil's Lake will be the objective point for excursionists next Tuesday, and Afton people who contemplate going should be at the station before 8:40 a. m., as the train is scheduled to leave here at that time. The C. & N. W. people say there will be no delay and no crowded cars; in fact, that this will be a strictly first class excursion. Attorney William M. Lawton, having purchased the law library of O. H. Orton, of Beloit, has opened an office in the Line City and resumed the practice of his profession. Town Treasurer G. S. Otis threshed last week, and now smilingly points to his big barn when asked where the straw pile is. He followed the somewhat popular plan prevailing this season, of running his straw under cover. The school census for the Afton district has been completed by District Clerk Brinkman and shows a school population of seventy-eight—thirty-nine male and thirty-nine female. The Deitloff house occupied by P. F. Starr is being repainted. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eldredge and daughters Alice and Hyla, returned Monday from a visit with Illinois relatives. Miss Jessie McCrea is visiting at the elegant rural home of George Shaw between Beloit and Rockton.

BOWER CITY ELEVENTH IN SIZE IN WISCONSIN.

The Total Gain in Population Was 2113 or 16.31 per cent Which Is Above the Average Increase— "Grouping of Towns" About the Same—The Figures in Detail.

Janesville, according to the state census, stands in eleventh place on the list of cities in Wisconsin. Her total population is 12,949, showing a gain over 1890 of 2113 or 16.31 per cent, which percentage is exceeded by thirteen other cities, they being Sheboygan, Green Bay, Appleton, Ashland, Wausau, Manitowoc, Merrill, Kenosha, Beloit, Menasha, Marshfield, Rhineland and Two Rivers. The cities that lead us in population are Milwaukee, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Superior, Racine, Sheboygan, Eau Claire, Green Bay Madison and Appleton. Superior's returns are not yet complete and in all probability will show about 28,000 giving that city the third place. In the table which follows the figures given for the population in 1895 are nearly all official. The list comprises nearly all of the most important cities of the state, and shows the population of 1890 as compared with the result of the census in 1895 together with the percentage of increase.

The Cities in "Groups."

There are several "groups" of Wisconsin cities, according to their population. Of course Milwaukee stands in a class of her own. In the second group are LaCrosse, Oshkosh and Racine, in which cities the number of inhabitants do not vary more than a few thousands. Then come Sheboygan, Eau Claire and Green Bay, in the order named, comprising the third group Madison, Fond du Lac, Appleton and Marinette are cities of about the same population, and Janesville, Ashland and Wausau are almost triplets, with Janesville nearly 1,000 the largest. It is an interesting fact that there are no cities of over 10,500 and under 11,000 population, and just below the 10,000 mark are Watertown, Manitowoc, Chippewa Falls, Stevens Point, Merrill and Kenosha.

DRUGGISTS TO TEST THE NEW LAW

None But Registered Pharmacists Can

Sell Drugs Under Its Provisions.

E. B. Helmstreet, as secretary of the State Board of Pharmacy will be called upon by the Milwaukee Pharmaceutical association to help them enforce the new Wisconsin pharmacy law and protect the association members from local grocers and dry goods merchants, who, it is claimed, are selling drugs and patent medicines at such low prices that the druggists are unable to part with them. Legal action will shortly be brought against some of those who are selling medicines and are not pharmacists, for the purpose of testing the law which provides that no person, not a registered pharmacist, shall sell, compound or dispense any drugs or medicine or poisons in any town of more than 500 population. This law, it will be seen also takes in Janesville and local men may also appeal to it. The state board, it is thought, will probably send a representative to Milwaukee to work a test case and it was found that the law governed the cases all men who persisted in dealing in drugs would be persecuted. The law provides for a fine of $50 for selling drugs to any person not a registered pharmacist.

LOTTERY WINNERS HELD THE BAG.

Stories About $15,000 Prizes Seem to Have

Been From Whole Cloth.

And have all those $15,000 lottery

winners been fakes?

It looks that way.

Federal inspectors say well known railroad men, saloon keepers, sporting men and other people of wide acquaintance around Chicago have received from $100 to $500 each from a lottery company in payment for representing to their friends that they have drawn $15,000 prizes in the lottery on 81 tickets. Inspector Withers says the lottery in question, seldom, if ever, pays its capital prizes, and he has secured admissions from men who drew such prizes several years ago, according to the stories they told at that time, they did not draw the prizes but were paid by the lottery people to say that they did.

A Peculiar Malady.

Stamp Collector (triumphantly)—I have just succeeded in securing a fine specimen of the recently counterfeited two-cent stamps; cost me only a dollar and a half, too!

Friend—A dollar and a half for a counterfeit stamp? Why, man, you must be crazy!

"But, you see, my dear fellow, it is certified to be a genuine counterfeit."

"Well, I declare! You stamp collectors beat my understanding!"

"Yes, I suppose to one who is not interested in philately, stamp collecting seems like a queer business."

"Huh! It isn't a business—it's a disease."—Truth.

An Unmistakable Exception.

"Remember, my son," said the prudent father, "that politeness doesn't cost anything."

"Yes," was the reply, "I've heard that."

"You don't doubt it, do you?"

"Well, it certainly costs me about seven dollars a week to get any politeness out of the waiters in our hotel."—Washington Star.

It Remained.

Her head had dropped upon his shoulder.

"If only," he whispered, "thy cheek could remain there forever."

Little thought he what was to be.

Little thought he until he got home and tried to remove her cheek from his dress coat with ammonia and alcohol.

The Reason.

Customer—Why, this is a new shade of red.

Assistant—Yes, madam. This is the anarchist tint.

Customer—How did it come to get that name?

Assistant—It won't wash.—Louisville Post.

The Modern Hat.

A ribbon and a flower takes
The maiden thin or fat;
A bit of lace, a bit of wire,
To form a modern hat.
Each thing, in turn, she pulls and twists,
And sticks them all up high,
Then proudly bears them all aloft,
And points to the sky.

—Brooklyn Eagle.

What Was Needed.

"I am anxious," said the seaside beauty who was posing for her picture, "to have my bathing suit show up well."

"I am sorry," replied the photographer, "but I have no microscope attachment to my camera."—Chicago Evening Post.

Distinguished.

Father (in disgust)—You are always the last boy in your class. Why don't you make an effort and distinguish yourself?

Son—Distinguish myself? Why, father, everybody knows I am the dumbest boy in school!—Puck.

Why It Is So.

"Wilkins says he's the only good-natured man in the office."

"Is he good natured?"

"Oh, yes; whistles at his work all day."

"I see—that accounts for it all."—Chicago Record.

She Wasn't at All Conceited.

Madge—I really think Jack would ask you to marry him if his prospects were better.

Dorothy—Indeed, if he only knew it, his prospects are very good. You don't know how fond I am of him.—Brooklyn Life.

Fault of the Market.

This is the greatest source of care
Among our tribulations many;
When wheat is cheap we've lots to spare,
And when it's dear we haven't any.

—Washington Star.

THOSE EXTRAVAGANT CITY FOLKS.

Uncle Reuben—Them's the most expensive scarecrows I ever seen, and they hain't no better than one made out of old clothes and straw neither.—N. Y. World.

Sure to Understand That.

Young Benedick—My wife doesn't understand me at all.

Old Benedick—Have you tried talking like a baby four months old?—Detroit Tribune.

He Needs It.

A.—Why should the soldier never lose his head in battle?

B.—Because then he wouldn't have any place to put his helmet on.—Humoristische Blaetter.

They're Big Enough.

"Why, one of those puffed sleeves to your old shirt waist is gone."

"Yes; I cut it up and made a bathing suit of it."—Chicago Evening Post.

Explained.

Mr. Grumble—Life is becoming more and more of a machine every day.

Mr. Tumble—That's because so many men marry typewriters.—N. Y. Recorder.

Not for Him.

I told my love to Margery
In words I thought her heart would melt,
And then she told her love to me—
The love for some one else she felt!

—Detroit Free Press.

He Was Forgiveness.

She—Have you ever loved another?

He—Yes, of course. Did you think I'd practice on a nice girl like you?—L. E.

THE TAX LEVY.

Janesville's tax levy is greater this year than last, by a trifle under $10,000. The increase however, is confined to items where the tax payers have demanded heavier expenditures. More electric lights and additional water mains are asked of the council at each meeting, but only when substantial benefit is assured are extensions ordered. The increase of the school fund from $18,000 to $23,000 is made necessary by a reduction in the sum received from the state. The bonded debt appropriation is decreased as well as the judgment fund. There is no change in the ward funds save in the addition of $500 to the Third ward fund, a sum that will be well expended. As to the fire and water fund it should be remembered that the sale of a steam fire engine and a hook and ladder truck provided means of eking out the appropriation for several years. This is the first year since water works were established when there has been no money except the council's appropriation available.

A comparison of this year's levy with the levy for 1894 follows:

	1895	1894
General fund.....	$10,500	$10,000
School fund.....	23,000	18,000
Highway and bridge fund.....	2,800	1,000
Gas fund.....	12,000	7,500
Fire and water.....	11,000	7,000
Bonded debt.....	11,312	13,000
Library.....	3,000	3,000
Judgment.....	1,200	5,400
First ward fund.....	2,500	2,500
Second ward.....	1,000	1,000
Third ward.....	3,500	3,000
Fourth ward.....	2,500	2,500
Fifth ward.....	1,800	1,800
Total.....	$86,712	76,800

PROSPECTS ARE GOOD.

In the general business field the situation continues favorable. The iron and steel market shows a large growth in production and consumption. Railroad earnings are gaining and are much beyond those of a year ago. Bank clearances are not only largely in excess of those of the 1894 and greater than those of the same time in 1893, but in some trade centers they exceed the figures of 1892, at which time the danger signals had not yet appeared. Labor troubles are fewer than have been known at this season for the past half a dozen years. The aggregate production of the great industries is but little below the highest level ever reached. Manufacturers no longer need bother about prospective tariff tinkering and are putting in full time.

There would not be as many chinch bugs and other insect pests if it were not for the wholesale slaughter of birds. If state legislatures were so constituted as to be of any account, they would give attention to the conservation of birds and other useful animals.

Uncle Sam is pining up with the country. An increase of wealth at the rate of $7,000,000 a day in the country at large is accompanied by growing deficits in the national treasury. However, some republican tonic will make that all right.

In a certain degree there is a historic continuity in England's foreign policy, through all changes of party. There is more of it, for example, than there is in the United States, so far as the United States can be said to have a foreign policy at all.

So Chairman Wall is to be minister of Japan! Before long the Japs will begin to suspect that for "ways that are childlike and bland" their neighbors in the orient lag far behind Wisconsin, if the astute Milwaukee politician is an example.

Nobody ever will see another case where the office has to seek the man as hard as that supreme court judge ship is chasing Wisconsin lawyers.

That elevated bicycle track from Milwaukee to Chicago will never be built, of course. Wheelmen and everybody else are sighing, not for elevated tracks, but for good ordinary roads in every direction.

Elopers escaped on a bicycle in Urbana, Ill., and staid fartherers real that they now must learn to ride in order to head off aspiring young men. Guarding the house against rope ladders no longer will serve.

There will be no dramatization of the Ashton case. A similar experiment with a San Francisco murder mystery has been stopped by the arrest of actors and stage managers.

Texas has gained immensely by her declaration that prize fighting will not be permitted within her borders. The barbarism of prize fighting must be stamped out everywhere.

MATERNAL AFFECTION.

"If You 'Rap' Against Me In Court I'll 'Clean out The House'" He Said—Case Against Him Has To Be Dismissed—Beloit People Revolt Against Tramps' Thievish Work.

"If you 'rap' against me in the court room, I'll come down and 'clean out the house' and I won't use my bare hands either" was the sinister threat that Patrick Mulcairns made while talking with his mother at the jail before he was discharged. A revolver, he said, was much better than fists and he said he would shoot someone's head off. This was the dismal frame of mind Mulcairns was in, but in spite of that his relatives changed their attitude toward him he walked out of the municipal court room a free man, this morning the charge against him having been dismissed by District Attorney Jackson.

Mulcairns was arrested for assaulting his brother with a flat iron, and the case had not yet come to trial although the defendant had been held. Today when it became necessary to file the information against him, District Attorney Jackson presented his reason for dismissing the action, they being that the evidence on the examination made it appear that it was uncertain that an offense was committed, and if an offense was committed by the defendant, the interest was not shown. The cause of the move was the change that the opinions of the witnesses, Mrs. Mulcairns and the brother, had undergone. They were not half so anxious to send Patrick to the penitentiary today as they were a week or two ago, so the district attorney had no alternative.

Beloit Folk Up In Arms. Beloit people are up in arms over the depredations of the tramps who infest "The Willows," and nearly all the residents are now carrying revolvers for self protection. The shooting of Thomas Hanford by Officer Tully has caused much talking, and the Free Press says that a careful investigation of affairs across the line indicates that the time has fully come when patience with the bums and tramps who collect in that locality has ceased to be a virtue, and that not only one but if need be half a dozen quick trigger-pulling deputy sheriffs should be deputized to maintain order and protect property. Officer Tully is to be commended for his prompt efforts to restore order and for his resolute defense of his own person.

Appleby Looking For Thieves.

Sheriff Appleby received a message at the jail last evening from the chief of police at Cambridge, Wisconsin, notifying him of a wholesale robbery there.

A general store was entered and much merchandise taken. Sheriff Appleby left for Beloit as soon as possible and spent the night in watching all incoming freight trains, but got no trace of the thieves.

JUG PRAIRIE STORM A BAD ONE

First Reports Did Not Tell How Serious It Was

At last accounts, William Smith, who was so dangerously hurt in the tornado at Jug Prairie is still alive. Mr. Smith was engaged in milking at the time of the accident and the outcome of his hurt is still in doubt. The storm was in reality worse than was at first reported, one man having $2000 damage done to his place. The storm rushed through a narrow track but cut a swarth fully twenty-five miles long. Some farmers were left without a building to shelter what stock escaped the storm while others lost their residences. The loss in growing crops will also be very heavy. In some cases the bark was peeled from the trees as they stood, while in others, the trunks of trees the size of a man's waist were twisted off. In another instance a piece of shingle was sent flying through the air, striking a small poplar tree with force enough to drive it two or three inches crosswise into the tree.

Peter Doremer was probably the heaviest loser. His barn was demolished, and in falling killed several head of cattle and two of his best horses. Mr. Doremer also lost most of his crops, so that his pecuniary loss will be extensive. Daniel Patterson had his crops destroyed, the grain being cut and pounded into the ground with the hail. The shingles were stripped from the roof of his house. A Bennett had his crops destroyed by hail and outbuildings demolished, while Mrs. Ballard, who is a sister-in-law of Municipal Court Clerk W. F. Williams was a heavy loser. Her farm lying in a hollow, her crops were washed off the land, most all of her beautiful shade trees were twisted off, and her extensive apple orchard was ruined. If these losses were footed up and those that have not been reported added to them, the figures would probably be large enough to surprise people. Another strange thing is, that such a storm could pass over any part of Wisconsin without the world knowing about it for seventy-two hours afterwards, and even then in such a meagre way.

NEW MACHINERY FOR A LAUNDRY

C. J. Myhr Now Has an Establishment That is a Model in Every Way.

The addition of a late pattern collar and cuff machine kind a sleeve ironer to the Janesville steam laundry makes it the most complete establishment of its kind in southern Wisconsin. The collar and cuff ironer is the very latest design, the padded roll having thirty six thicknesses of cloth and the capacity of the machine is 5000 pieces a day. Mr. Myhr is continually on the lookout for improvements in laundry machinery and this fact together with the class of work and right treatment to customers has done much to build up the extensive business of the laundry. Mr. Myhr estimates that his establishment is doing at least eighty per cent of the laundry trade of southern Wisconsin, there being scarcely a town of consequence within eight to a hundred miles of this city that does not send work. It keeps Mr. Myhr bustling, but he never fails to satisfy the wants of the public.

SUTHERLAND SELLS HIS WATER STOCK

E. M. HYZER NOW OWNS A QUARTER INTEREST.

Deal Follows Close on the Heels of the Longley Farm Sale—Retiring Stockholder a Member of the Original Company—Present Membership of the Corporation.

George G. Sutherland has sold his interest in the Janesville Water Company.

E. M. Hyzer is the purchaser. The announcement of the deal followed very closely the sale of the Longley farm by Mr. Hyzer to J. L. Bear for $10,000. The ex-sheriff's money was very quickly turned into water company stock.

Mr. Sutherland was one of the original incorporators of the water company and figured for several years as the company's attorney. He also served as secretary, but it was understood that disagreements arose between him and other members of the company.

When the council began its suit against the company he was made receiver by Judge Bennett and for a time had charge of the company's affairs.

Mr. Hyzer has represented the company in its litigation for the last nine months and has been its spokesman in several important matters. The block of stock which he has bought is said to be equivalent to a quarter interest. The rest of the stock is held by Messrs. Maxey and Jackman.

SHOPPING DONE BY EXPRESS

How the Scheme Has Worked in Crippling Aurora Retail Stores.

C. P. McLean is too loyal a Janesville man to wish to injure the town. That may be one reason why the American Express Co. purchase scheme has not been worked harder here. The scheme, as he says, is not a new one, and the circular published by the Gazette last evening was drawn some time ago. Aurora is the only town where the idea proved popular at first and three purchasing agents now make daily tours of the town taking small orders to be executed in Chicago. Aurora retailers are badly crippled by the scheme.

Janesville, Rockford, Elgin and the other towns named in the circular did not take kindly to the plan at the start, but the report is current among railroad men that more attention is to be paid to it in future. In Rockford an organized movement is now being made to counteract it.

A curious fact about the affair is that one or two Janesville retailers who are making the most outcry over the affair, are the ones who buy most of their family supplies away from home. It is well to encourage local patriotism in others, but a good example is worth many words.

FATALLY BURNED BY GASOLINE

Extortion.

A middle-aged man of tall, slender build and earnest cast of countenance stepped into a hatter's shop on Jackson street the other morning and removed the wrappings from a soft felt hat he carried in his hand.

"How much will it cost to have this dyed a light gray, to match my hair?" he inquired.

"It will cost you at least a dollar," replied the hatter.

The caller wrapped it up again.

"I won't pay it," he said, decidedly.

"For thirty-five cents I can get my hair dyed to match the hat. Good day, sir," Chicago Tribune.

"Mother," said the emancipated woman's boy, "it isn't proper to say pants."

Two Thoughts.

They stood beside her father's gate;
He talked of pure, undying love,
As constant and inviolate
As were the stars that shone above.
They parted and she thought: "Kind fate!
His love shall be my life's pure pearl!"
He thought: "I'm sorry it's too late
To go and see my other girl."
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

GETTING EVEN WITH HER.

Miss Oldlove—I see you play for your husband as well as pose for him.
Mrs. De Auber—Oh, yes, my husband thinks "music bath charms."

Miss Oldlove—Yes, but I should think he'd prefer his model to have them.—Truth.

Thoughts at Sea.

The first day called up gravest fears that made me nervous hearted;
The next day called up memories of friends from whom I'd parted;
The third day called up thoughts of land where one is safely cared;
The fourth day called up everything I'd eaten since I started.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Looked Like a Trap.

Irene—Isn't it curious how innocent George Ferguson is? They say he never kissed anybody in his life and doesn't know how to kiss.

Laura—There is not a word of truth in it! He has—that is, he—why, I should think he would know how by this time.—Chicago Tribune.

Saving Money.

Wabash—I was sorry to hear of your divorce, old man. Couldn't you live happily together?

Van Buren—Oh, yes, happily enough, but matrimony was too expensive. You see, I am trying to save enough money to buy a bicycle.—Indianapolis Journal.

Point Not Well Taken.

Mrs. McSwat—The reason I object to your spending so much time at that club of yours, Billiger, is that I am sure it is nothing but a resort for loafers.

Mr. McSwat—Great Scott, Maria! What's any club?—Chicago Tribune.

Precaution Extraordinary.

Mix—Doctor, do you fumigate yourself when you are on your rounds among contagious cases?

Health Officer—Yes; I smoke one of my wife's birthday cigars. They're dead sure microbe killers.—N. Y. World.

Difficult Part of the Course.

"Miss Keedick is taking the first course in the Female College of Journalism. It will last three months."

"What is the scope of the first course?"
"Learning to sharpen a lead-pencil."—Puck.

An Eye to Business.

Pixter—Is that the heiress who married the count last week?

Onson—Yes.
Pixter—Wait till I hand her my card. I'm the most successful divorce lawyer in the city.—N. Y. World.

Heartless.

"I'm going now; yes, I'm going, going," murmured Steigher.

"What an excellent auctioneer you'd make," said the heartless but tired Miss Nycegirl.—Boston Courier.

The Infinite Summer Girl.

He—So you have broken off your engagement with Jack?

She—Oh no; only suspended it until I return to town in the autumn.—Harper's Bazar.

At the Seaside.

"Are there many men here?" asked the newcomer.

"No," replied the girl who had been there a week, as she tightened her belt, "not enough to go around."—Truth.

Pretended He Didn't Know How.

"Makin' any money off yer summer boarders?"

"Am I? Well, say! I'm lettin' every new boarder teach me how ter play poker."—Judge.

Overheard.

He—And I'll bet I steal a kiss from you.

"I'll bet you two kisses you can't."—Life.

Jack and Jill.

Jack and Jill went up the hill,
To fetch a pail of water—
But the things they said when they fell down,
They really hadn't oughter.

Eat and Be Happy!

Nobody can do this who has dyspepsia. Even a light meal, eaten with relish, inflicts more or less torture upon the wretched victim of indigestion. But why allow one's self to be thus victimized when success in the shape of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be summoned? If you are going to any locality—a remote country farm house, or new settlement, for instance, where it is not readily procurable, provide yourself in advance with an adequate supply. An unaccustomed diet is very apt to produce dyspeptic qualms, so is brackish water, aboard ship and the eating of acid fruits. Forestall further encroachment of the complaint with this superb and genial corrective and preventive. Heartburn, sour eructations, biliousness, constipation, malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble promptly succumb to the onsets of this vanquisher of bodily ailments and restorative of vigor.
